

2021 MBA Employment Report

Focus on Women

Full-Time Salary for Women

$127,506

$126,107 All Students

Full-Time Positions for Women

By Industry

Consulting	32%
Consumer Goods & Retail	10%
Financial Services	26%
Government	2%
Healthcare	5%
Real Estate	3%
Social Impact / Nonprofit	5%
Technology	18%

By Function

Consulting	32%
Finance	19%
General Management	3%
Human Resources	3%
Marketing / Sales	27%
Operations / Logistics	8%
Strategic Planning	7%

“I was unsure of what my career path would look like post-MBA, but thanks to the McDonough MBA Career Center, that process never felt daunting or overwhelming. They reached out and provided resources to support my job search and career development process before our first semester even started. The career center’s coaching and development programs were integral to my success in receiving and accepting an offer from my top choice program.”

Alexis Ahmad (MBA’21)

US Marketing - MBA Commercial Rotational Program, Biogen

“Georgetown’s Jesuit values embody doing good for others and the world, so I came to business school with a pretty clear idea that I wanted to work in a field of impact. For me, I have always been passionate about climate change, so I recruited heavily for companies that focused on renewable energy. The McDonough MBA was a crucial stepping stone as I was looking to pivot into that space.”

Lianne Pinto (MBA’21)

Investment Banking Associate, Nomura Greentech

“I was surprised by the number of varied experiences that I was able to be a part of at McDonough. During my MBA, I completed two internships, served as a graduate assistant, supported social causes, traveled to three new countries with my classmates, and participated in countless other personal and professional activities — in addition to the learning that took place in the classroom. I was able to connect with others in the McDonough network throughout the recruitment process, my internship, and even now as I am back in the workforce full-time.”

Brionna Hunter (MBA’21)

Product Marketing Manager, Microsoft

Georgetown Women in Business (GWiB)

GWiB is a professional development and advocacy group of forward-looking and courageous business trailblazers who share the goal of empowering women and male allies. As one of the most active clubs in the MBA program, GWiB members partake in an annual career conference, student/alumnae networking, professional development, exclusive employer events, and opportunities to socialize and engage in service.