MANY OF THE WORLD'S LARGEST ECONOMIES ARE NOT COUNTRIES, BUT COMPANIES.

We know. Startling.

And (as it's been said) with great power comes great responsibility — for businesses and, ultimately, for the business schools that help shape tomorrow's leaders and the powerful effect they can have on our world. This is why Darden challenges students to lead with purpose, creating genuine value that weighs consequence over results and transforms the intent of business. This is what we mean when we ask students to put their purpose into practice.

At Darden, the choice has never been more important.
